

TIPPERARY HISTORICAL JOURNAL
1990

© County Tipperary Historical Society

www.tipperaryllibraries.ie/thc society@tipperaryllibraries.ie

ISSN 0791-0655

Guide to Tipperary Newspapers (1770 - 1989)

SUPPLEMENT

Following the publication of this Guide in the 1989 Tipperary Historical Journal, the Editor acquired the following information. This is published in alphabetical order of titles of newspapers, numerals in brackets referring to page-numbers in the 1989 Guide. The editor is indebted to: Ms. Máirín Cassidy and Ms. Norma Jessop, both of UCD Library; Mary Immaculate College, Limerick, Library; Ms. Nancy Murphy, Nenagh; Noel Ross, editor, Co. Louth Archaeological Journal; William Corbett, Drombane; Paul Walsh, Templemore; and Dean Woodworth, Cashel.

Baxter's Literary Journal (9). For the subsequent career of Baxter after his Nenagh paper collapsed, see Co. Louth Archaeological Journal, 1947, 178-179.

Cashel Advertiser (4). The GPA Bolton Library, Cashel, possesses Nos. 1 to 4, dated Sept. 1861, Oct. 1861, Nov. 1861 and Dec. 1861.

Chun an Lae (4). The National Library of Ireland has one issue, the NLI ref. being Misc. Periodicals LB 05 M1. For a history of the paper, see Recollections of the Fight for Irish Freedom, by Seán Fitzpatrick (Tipperary, 1975), pp. 68-70, where the author states that the machine used to print this paper was still extant in the early 1970s. The Editor of the Tipperary Historical Journal can confirm that it was still extant in the Summer of 1990.

Mary Immaculate College, Limerick, has the following micro-films: Clonmel Advertiser (1828-1838, & 1843); Nenagh Gazette (1841-1842); Nenagh Guardian (1878-1899); Tipperary Constitution (1835-1848); Tipperary Leader (1855-1885); Tipperary Nationalist (1889-1890).

Nenagh Tribune. From April 1981 to December this paper, printed and published by the Midland Tribune, had an office in Nenagh.

Templemore Telegraph. The full title of this paper, was Templemore Telegraph and Mid Tipperary Commercial and Agricultural Advertiser: Nenagh News, Thurles Times & Roscrea Record! The only known copy, dated March 3, 1900, is in the possession of Mr. Paul Walsh, Templemore.

CORRECTIONS:

Nenagh Guardian (8). In line 2, Clonmel Herald should read Clonmel Advertiser; in line 3 '1857' should read '1851'.

Tipperary Leader (10). The heading should read Tipperary Leader (1855), and the date in line 2 should read '27 January 1855'.

Index (16). For Carrick Democrotor read Carrick Democrat; for Clonmel herald read Clonmel Herald; for clonmel Journal read Clonmel Journal.

BIBLIOGRAPHY (16):

The following publications should be added: British Periodicals & Newspapers, 1789-1832, by William S. Ward (Kentucky, 1977); Census of British Newspapers & Periodicals, 1620-1800, by R. S. Crane & F. B. Kaye (London, 1927 & 1960); Catalogue of the Newspaper Library, Colindale, Vol. 2, pp. 1193-1318 (Ireland) (London, 1975).

Marcus Bourke.

